Whether representing a start-up, an emerging company, a privately held business or a multinational public corporation, the attorneys in Fredrikson's Corporate family of practices make it a priority to understand our clients' business. Regardless of the size, ownership structure or market position of a business we serve, we bring our creative problem-solving skills and entrepreneurial mindset to every legal and business challenge our clients encounter.

Our practice extends over the entire lifespan of a business, from entity formation, through various types of funding at different stages, internal governance, special contract arrangements or joint ventures, acquisitions or mergers, to business exit strategies. Our clients come from a broad range of industries, including manufacturing, banking and finance, health care, life science, technology, food, agribusiness, energy, natural resources, real estate and construction.

We offer legal counsel and creative business advice that is aligned with our clients' specific goals and helps them seize new opportunities and manage risk. In short, we treat our clients' business as if it were our own.
