Health Law Webinar—Preserving Privilege in Investigations

Event

07.11.2018

Online

Cost: Free

Hosted By: Fredrikson's Health Law Group

The importance of preserving privilege in an internal investigation is often unappreciated until an organization's sensitive emails and documents are disclosed to the public in open court.

This webinar provides an in-depth tutorial for in-house attorneys, compliance professionals, coders, human resources personnel and anyone else involved in internal investigations. It will offer practical guidance on the limits of privilege and tips for maximizing your ability to keep your internal investigation materials privileged whenever possible.

Accreditation

We have applied for Continuing Legal Education (CLE) credit for this program in Iowa and Minnesota. Please contact Greta Larson at glarson@fredlaw.com if you are an attorney licensed in another state and would like information about obtaining CLE accreditation. We have also applied for Health Care Compliance Association (HCCA) credits. Webinar participants will be notified of accreditation upon program approval of CLE and HCCA credits (typically three or four weeks following the webinar).
