Firm News

04.05.2019

Ryan Murphy served as guest editor for the April 2019 edition of the Journal of Corporate Renewal (JCR) and authored the column, "Concerns Grow Over New Farm Crisis." Clint Cutler wrote the article "What Advisors to Agricultural Producers Need to Know About Loan Workouts." The JCR is the official publication of the Turnaround Management Association (TMA).

The April 2019 edition of the JCR includes an overview of how the agricultural industry began its financial slide and provides advice for agribusiness owners and their advisors on how to survive the crisis. It also provides advice to lending institutions on how to protect their interests, given the varied and often secret liens associated with the business of agriculture.
